

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

INTERNATIONAL PREWORLD SYMPOSIUM CONFERENCE "ARTS AND SCIENCE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF LIFE POTENTIALS" 26th – 28th September 2018

Salon Parentium - hotel "LAGUNA" / Zagreb, Croatia

Almost 20 years ago in the beautiful interior of the Old Theatre in Hvar , the oldest preserved popular theatre in Europe, on the Croatian island of Hvar, one of the cradles of Renaissance cultural vigor in this part of Mediterranean, the 1st International scientific conference of it's kind worldwide, was held, under the title

"Arts and Science in Life Potential Development", which gathered experts- participants from various disciplines biomedical, humanistic, social, art and other sciences.

Under the auspices of the Croatian Ministries of Science, 8th International Symposium conference has been held 2017 at the University of Split and congress hall in "Amphora" hotel at the island of Hvar.

This symposium has been attended by numerous participants and experts from universities, clinical institutions, scientific and professional associations from Croatia, China, Slovenia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Cambodia, Netherlands, Albania, Ivory Coast, Costa Rica, France.

On that occasion it was decided that 2019, on 20th anniversary of these International gatherings, World Symposium

"Arts and Science in the Development of Life Potentials" will be held.

The planned locations for this jubilee International gathering in 2019 are the Amphora Congress Center in Hvar or the "Brioni" Congress Center near Pula.

INTERNATIONAL PREWORLD SYMPOSIUM CONFERENCE will be held with aim to prepare the content of the World Symposium 2019
"Arts and science in life potential development".
